

CHINESE REPEATS CHARGE AGAINST SCULLY, LEWIS

Tells Story of Alleged Robbery of $700 in Fake Opium Deal

Chang Chun, the Chinese whose story of robbery at the hands of John T. Scully, Henry T. Lewis and two other white men caused the arrest and indictment of Scully and Lewis, took the witness stand in Circuit Judge Ashford's court this morning in the trial of the accused couple and repeated his narrative as he gave it originally to the police.

The jury was finally chosen at 10:30 o'clock today, after a considerable number of the members of the special venire called by the court yesterday had been examined and excused. Six of the regular jurors remain in the box. The roster is as follows: John T. Gandall, Reuben Kinney, H. M. Rose, John P. Padgett, John Williams, George K. Dwight, William K. Rees, William T. Raposa, F. W. Wickman, G. W. Nawakoa, Alfred K. Smythe and Alfred J. Drom.

Chang Chun held the witness stand the latter part of the morning on direct testimony. He told of the initial negotiations between himself and Scully, and of the ride in an automobile driven by Lewis from the Oriental section of the city to a house in Kalihi, where the opium was produced by Scully. In the car with him were two Chinese companions, who were to assist him in the opium purchase.

Chang said he entered the house with Scully and Lewis, the other Chinese remaining in the car. On examining the three Chang said he discovered they did not bear the federal stamp which should mark them as legal property, and that thereupon he refused to buy. He said Scully insisted the drug was better than the kind which bears the government stamp, but that he, Chang, turned to leave the house. At that moment, the witness asserted, Scully stamped his foot on the floor. This apparently was a signal, for instantly two other men stepped out from another room and pointed pistols at Chang, ordering him to hold up his hands.

The Chinese said he did not recognize the two strangers. They apparently desired to conceal their identity, wearing their coat collars turned high around their necks and having their hat brims well down over their eyes. Chang averred that as he threw up his hands he shouted "Fifty dollars here!" This is a colloquial expression meaning "help! help!" His Chinese companions appeared at the door and one of the armed strangers promptly held them up, at the same time ordering them to keep quiet. While the other armed man kept a gun pointed at Chang, he said, Scully went through his pockets and extracted a bag containing $700 in gold and silver. Then one of the men with the revolvers suggested that the victims be taken to the custom house and accordingly the three Orientals were bundled into the automobile; and with Lewis driving and the two men with revolvers guarding them the trio were taken downtown and released in front of the custom building.

Thinking they were under arrest the Chinese remained in front of the building for half an hour, but seeing no officials around and being unable to make inquiry they finally returned to their homes.

Before the taking of evidence began Attorney L. Andrews, of counsel for the defendants, moved that the prosecution be instructed to elect the particular count of the indictment on which the case was to be tried. The motion was overruled. The hearing probably will occupy two or three days more.

MIDDY WHO FOUGHT IN FALKLANDS BATTLE TELLS STORY OF SEA-FIGHT

(The following graphic account of the Falklands islands naval battle is from a British exchange.)

In our issue of last week we reproduced a photo of Midshipman John Esmond of H. M. S. Invincible, son of Sir Thomas Esmond, M. P., in a letter to his father from Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, he describes his experiences in the battle of the Falkland Islands on December 8.

The Canopus, he says, opened fire on the Scharnhorst, but the shells of both fell short. "In the meantime we were tearing out trimming anything that got in our way. We cut two small boats in half. Happily there was no one in them. We fired at the Leipzig, and caused her to drop out of the line. In the first bout with the flagship Scharnhorst we were about equal. She hit us four times and we did about the same to her, but we utterly outmanned her. First our left gun sent her big crane spinning over the side. Then our right blew her funnel to atoms, and then another shot sent her from the left sent her bridge and part of her foremast sky-high.

"We were not escaping free, however. Shots were hitting us repeatedly, and the spray from the splashes of their shells were hiding the Scharnhorst from us. Suddenly great livid flames rushed through the gun-ports, and splinters flew all round, and we felt the whole 150 or 200 tons of the turret going up in the air. We thought we would go over the side and get drowned.

"The whistle of the shells that flew over us grew into a regular shriek. We were hitting the Scharnhorst nearly every time. Suddenly our right gun misfired. We had got a jam, and one gun was out of action. Our left gun was doing work for two. The Scharnhorst was firing heavily, but I could see she was in a bad way. She was down at the bow, and badly on fire amidships.

"I got a crowbar and brought it in to free the jammed gun, but they wanted a hacksaw as well, so I jumped out again, and just as I was coming back I saw the Scharnhorst's ensign dip. I never knew whether it came down or not, because just then one of our lyddite shells hit her, and there was a dense cloud of smoke all over her. When it cleared she was on her side, and her propellers were lashing the water round into foam. Then she capsized, not a man being saved. To save any was impossible.

"We turned to the Gueisnau and fought on for nearly two hours. The Germans had fought well, and were done. She had a heavy list to port, and was burning furiously. The first funnel was down and she was an absolute shambles, her turrets in splinters, and her guns twisted in corkers. She looked a sad sight. It was not certain whether she hauled down her flag or not. I think she did.

A LOGICAL DYSPEPSIA TREATMENT

Importance of Eliminating Acidity and Food Fermentation.

During the past two or three years reports have frequently appeared in the press concerning the remarkable value of bisulphated magnesia as an antacid; and its ability to promote normal, healthy digestion by preventing food fermentation and neutralizing dangerous stomach acid has often been demonstrated. Until recently druggists could supply bisulphated magnesia in powder form only, from one to two teaspoonfuls of which, taken in a little water after meals, almost instantly stops all fermentation and neutralizes acid, but sufferers from stomach trouble will be glad to learn that, after a long series of experiments, a leading firm of manufacturing druggists has now succeeded in producing a 5-grain tablet which combines all the valuable antacid properties of the ordinary bisulphated magnesia in a very convenient form. This new tablet of bisulphated magnesia can now be obtained of druggists everywhere, and many physicians are already prescribing them instead of the powder form. For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Chambers Drug Co., and Hollister Drug Co.—Adv.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Regulation of the recording of birth certificates is the object of a house bill introduced today.

A measure to establish and make legal the health and sanitary code of the territorial bureau of health was presented in the house this morning.

The education committee of the house reported favorably upon Representative Goodness' bill to establish a commercial course at the Lahaina Seminary today.

A bill to require 400 cubic feet of space for each person over the age of 12 years and 200 feet for each person under that age in every sleeping room made its appearance in the house today.

Lyman presented a bill in the house today making it compulsory for election officials to keep other than persons actually engaged in voting, excepting poll officers, away from polling booths.

The health and police committee recommended that an amendment to the license motion picture shows at the rate of $100 a year, and to exempt benefit shows pass the house with a minor amendment.

The first circuit court stenographers asked the house in a petition introduced today to restore their original salaries of $200 a month each. They blamed former Governor Frear for the salary cut in the petition.

The municipal committee of the house reported favorably on Williamson's bill to remove legal deadwood in the city charter, making it necessary for the county clerk to record ordinances several times in repetition.

Silva's bill relating to the issuance of marriage licenses created a furor in the house today when the committee on municipal affairs reported favorably with the recommendation that magistrates and tax assessors only issue licenses instead of the latter and police officers. Holstein raised the question of the advisability of having magistrates issue licenses and also perform ceremonies.

A FLEET OF OIL TANKERS?

Can you imagine 60 large oil tank steamers coming into Honolulu harbor, each tanker loaded with 40,000 barrels of oil? This amount represents the yearly contract just closed with the Associated and Standard Oil Companies of California—two and one-half million barrels.

Four years ago, after making a careful and exhaustive investigation of the Lakeview No. 2 Oil Company's prospects to deliver the goods, I decided to sell their stock in Hawaii. It was at that time simply a hole in the ground, but with every prospect of success. My friends and others bought stock in the company solely through confidence in my statement. The company, later on, brought in the largest oil well ever discovered in the United States. They have on hand over 3,000,000 barrels of oil in surface reservoirs and an unlimited supply underground.

My satisfaction, after many months of anxiety, is that the stockholders' confidence was not misplaced.

The company has two large oil wells capped and closed down with a production of about TEN MILLION BARRELS, EQUIVALENT TO ABOUT FOUR MILLION DOLLARS YEARLY available for export as soon as business conditions in Europe justify oil shipments. The company is incorporated for one million dollars—have sold 700,000 shares, leaving 300,000 shares as treasury stock. THE COMPANY HAS NO STOCK FOR SALE.

Four hundred shares former selling price $100 are now worth TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, this big profit only being possible in the oil business, and explains John D. Rockefeller's great accumulation of wealth. OUR FIRST DIVIDEND IS PAYABLE MARCH 15. I look for this stock to go to $10 per share within twelve months.

Men or women, if you wish to better your condition in life and be somebody, now is your opportunity. I predict that if you buy some of this stock, it will help you to buy your own automobile and live on easy street.

Having only a limited amount of stock I will not guarantee delivery of any order to exceed 100 shares. PRICE $3.00 PER SHARE. Drop me a letter at once or come and see me.

C. P. CRAWFORD CAN SHOW FACTS

C. P. Crawford, Coast representative for the Gross & Miller Co., Inc. agents for the stock of the Marchant Calculating Machine Co., who is now in Hawaii placing a limited number of shares of this stock, reports remarkable success to date.

"This company," states Mr. Crawford, "has repeatedly been the recipient of compliments as to organization and general management, etc."

"It is always easy to convince a real businessman of the intrinsic value of this stock. Any man knows that the stock of a company which is not merely a theory, but an established growing productive concern, is far more valuable than anticipated propositions. That is the kind of an opportunity which we are offering to the people of Honolulu."

"We have been operating and making good profits upon the capital invested for over a year and a half now, and the orders for these little machines are always far in excess of the capacity of the factory. It is for this very reason that we have decided to dispose of a certain number of shares of the company. We need more capital just now to erect a larger plant, etc. The ground has already been purchased and plans completed, but we want to do this thing right when we start. We intend that the factory now in mind shall serve adequately for many years to come. We don't want to have to be continually making additions."

"Since coming to Honolulu we have sold nine of the Marchant calculating machines and will make the deliveries as soon as it is possible to obtain them from Oakland, the home plant and office."

Mr. Crawford has taken offices in the Hawaiian Trust building, room 202; day or evening will find Mr. Crawford in readiness to talk business. Appointments may be made by mail if desired by writing P. O. box 1130. Demonstration of machine and absolute facts regarding this company are accessible to interested parties.—Adv.

AMERICAN BANKERS MAY MAKE JUNKET TO HAWAII

The American Bankers' Association may be induced to make a junket to Hawaii the latter part of next September, following its annual convention at Seattle. Mainland transportation companies are urging the project and certain members of the association are said to favor it. The proposition is to bring the members to the islands in a chartered steamer and after a tour of the islands return to the mainland by way of San Francisco.

In a letter to the Promotion Committee yesterday J. R. Galt, treasurer of the Hawaiian Trust company,
